2024 INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIPS

Webber International and Wichita State claim 2024 ITC titles

The Webber International men and Wichita State women captured team championships, and Wichita State's Sara Duque and Jaysen Spanbauer of Marian-Wisconsin claimed singles titles at the 2024 Intercollegiate Team and Singles Championships at Kingpin Lanes in the Greater Louisville area.

The 2024 event marked the 50th edition of USBC's team national championship tournament, and the men's title match between Webber International and Lawrence Tech was undoubtedly one of the most exciting in the event's history.

The Warriors came in looking for their third men's ITC title while Lawrence Tech was hoping to break through and collect the first in program history.

Webber got on the board first, winning the opener by a score of 213-180 to take a 1-0 lead.

But LTU wasn't intimidated, besting the Warriors 224-195 during Game 2 and 235-176 in Game 3 to take a 2-1 lead and put themselves just one win away from securing their first ever ITC title.

As the two teams approached the end of Game 4, it looked as if Lawrence Tech was going to get it after Webber suffered an open in the seventh frame and left a 1-2-10 washout in the eighth.

However, Nick Larsen stepped up and made a clutch conversion. Then, Brett Lloyd delivered a strike in the ninth, and Brandon Bohn added one of his own on the first ball in the 10th to give the Warriors a 210-199 victory and extend the match.

Webber took the early lead during the deciding game, but the tide turned shortly thereafter as a Warriors open in the seventh combined with a clutch turkey from Lawrence Tech put the Blue Devils back in the driver's seat.

Webber rebounded with late strikes to keep things close, but Lawrence Tech still controlled its own destiny. If it could produce a double and eight in the 10th frame, the match would be over.

That double never came, however; instead, the Blue Devils were left to contend with a 1-3-7 washout, which they were unable to convert.

With Lawrence Tech in with a score of 203, Lloyd's task was crystal clear. If he could deliver a mark, the 2024 ITC men's title would belong to Webber International.

Lloyd didn't just mark; he delivered a picture-perfect strike to win the game (224-203), the match (3-2) and the program's third men's national title.

When asked about that final shot, Lloyd, who in addition to being named to the 2024 ITC men's all-tournament team was selected as the event's MVP, didn't mince words.

"I just knew that I had to be ready because it was my time," Lloyd said. "My guys set me up and made my job easy, and I just took care of business."

The 2024 Webber International championship team included James Bennett, Bohn, Charles Bostic, Austin Grammar, Larsen, Lloyd, Aaron Reingold and AJ Wolstenholme.

In addition to Lloyd, the men's all-tournament team featured Bohn, Wichita State's Spencer Robarge, Indiana Tech's Alex Horton and Cayleb Carey of Lawrence Tech.

The Chris Stoehr Sportsmanship award in the men's division went to Julian Salinas of Savannah College of Art and Design-Savannah.

In the women's title match, Wichita State anchor bowler Mary Orf was clutch early on, delivering a double in the 10th frame of Game 1 and a turkey to close Game 2 to help the Shockers jump out to a 2-0 lead by scores of 200-186 and 191-173.

However, Jacksonville State was not about to back down.

The Gamecocks grinded out a 224-215 victory in Game 3 and followed it up with a 200-176 win in Game 4.

After having won two games in a row, it appeared as if maybe the momentum had shifted in Jacksonville State's direction heading into the deciding game.

But that notion was dispelled quickly as after both teams began the fifth game with open frames, Wichita State rattled off nine strikes in a row to cruise to a 264-199 victory and collect the Helmer Cup for a record 11th time.

Afterward, Wichita State Head Coach Holly Harris commented about how special she found the 2024 team to be.

"This group just gets along and has a genuine love for each other, and that's not something you see on a lot of women's teams," Harris said. "The love that they have is contagious, and the vibe that they bring just makes it a joy for me to watch them play."

Wichita State's 2024 championship team featured Sara Duque, Brooklyn Gagnon, Aleesha Oden, Orf, Piper Reams, Paige Wagner and Ashtyn Woods.

Orf was named to the all-tournament team and was the women's division's most valuable player. Joining Orf with all-tournament honors were Mount Mercy's Megan Kolberg, Lara Kurt of Savannah College of Art and Design-Savannah, Jacksonville State's Crystal Elliott and Allie Leindecker of Louisiana Tech.

The Chris Stoehr Sportsmanship award in the women's division went to Maya Avilez of North Carolina A&T.

On some level, it could be argued that Wichita State's Duque wasn't a great sport. Not because she behaved inappropriately in any way, but because she was a bit greedy when it came to taking home trophies.

That's because just a couple hours after she helped the Shockers capture the 2024 ITC women's title, Duque took down Lindenwood's Hailey Bozych, 234-167, to win the ISC women's crown for Wichita as well.

Duque jumped ahead early during the title match and never looked back, using a turkey and two Bozych opens to take a 47-pin lead after six frames.

Bozych did her best to hang in there, but it was to no avail as Duque was simply too much.

After advancing to the women's semifinals, Duque said that it was gratifying to see her hard work and dedication pay off. After she'd finished the job and emerged as the 2024 ISC women's national champion, words were a bit tougher to come by.

"This feels so awesome; I really don't even have words," Duque said. "I didn't think that I'd have the chance to win this, so I'm really happy and excited."

Duque punched her ticket to the women's title match by topping Vanderbilt's Natalie Kent by a score of 219-170 during Semifinal No. 1.

In the other women's semifinal, Bozych used a late four-bagger to get past top seed Crystal Elliott of Jacksonville State, 212-183.

The men's ISC TV show was equally entertaining from start to finish with all three matches coming down to the 10th frame.

In the opener, Wichita State's Braden Mallasch struck out in the ninth and 10th frames to defeat Hastings College left-hander Carstin Olson by a final score of 234-227.

With the victory, Mallasch advanced to the title match where he would face the winner of Semifinal No. 2 between Spanbauer and Mallasch's Wichita State teammate Ryan Barnes.

Spanbauer and Barnes put on quite a show, combining to strike on 19 of 23 deliveries during their semifinal match.

Nevertheless, someone had to win, and someone had to lose, and it was Spanbauer who came out on top, 259-253, after Barnes' second ball in the 10th frame left a ringing 10 pin.

With one Shocker out of the way, Spanbauer headed to the title match looking to dispatch the other.

He appeared to be well on his way to doing just that during the early stages of the match as he opened the bout with a six-bagger to quickly establish a 41-pin lead.

But that's when things got interesting.

Spanbauer's seventh shot went high, leaving the 3-10 baby split, which he failed to convert.

He recovered by delivering a dramatic messenger strike in the eighth frame. That strike, combined with a ringing 10 pin in the eighth for Mallasch, made Spanbauer's path to victory quite clear: If he could stay clean during the ninth and 10th frames, he would be the 2024 men's ISC national champion.

But just as it did two frames earlier, Spanbauer's ball went high again during the ninth frame, leaving a 4-10 split that put him in danger of opening for the second time in three frames and opening the door back up for Mallasch.

Content to just get good pin count, Spanbauer's attempt at the conversion covered most of the 4 pin, making it clear that the pin would not slide over to take out the 10.

But he didn't need it to as instead of sliding over, the 4 pin deflected off the curtain and came back toward the pin deck to trip the 10 pin from behind, resulting in an improbable split conversion that put Spanbauer right back on the verge of victory.

He wasn't about to let the opportunity slip away. Needing a mark in the 10th to win, Spanbauer delivered a strike on his first shot to officially lock up the match and men's singles national title.

When the final pins had fallen, Spanbauer had defeated Mallasch, 236-205.

"This is incredible," Spanbauer said. "I've learned so much during the last two years, and this title gives me so much confidence going forward in my bowling. I'm excited to see where this takes me."

INTERCOLLEGIATE SINGLES CHAMPIONSHIPS FIELD

The 24 men and 24 women that qualified for the 2025 Intercollegiate Singles Championships were able to advance to the individual national championships by advancing from one of the four sectional qualifying events. Take a look at the qualifiers and each of their finishing positions from sectionals. Each sectional featured a six-game qualifying block.
